Ogden High School,
Ogden, Utah.

Dear Madam:-- I thought Prof. Upham had written you regarding your work for next year, but I am just informed that he has not done so; and, as he is just recovering from an attack of typhoid and will not be able to write for several days, I have pleasure in informing you that the arrangements for next year's work have all been completed. In addition to your work in English 3 (grammar review and beginning rhetoric) and English 4 (classics), you will probably have elective courses in American literature and the Victorian Poets, each course extending through one term three hours a week. The elective courses may be conducted by lectures or recitations, as you may see fit.

The catalogue for next year will probably be received from the press about June 10. Copies will be sent you as soon as the first lot is received.

Trusting that your summer's visit to Europe may be most pleasant, I am,

Very truly yours,

President.
